WRITING

Anna had a very special reason for getting up early the next day, so she set the alarm clock for 5 am. It was the day when the class was going on a trip with volunteers. Anna was really excited to see how volunteers clean the forest and don't get tired!

When Anna was walking to school on this extraordinary morning, she <sup>enjoyed</sup> the nice weather, the slight cool wind without a cloud in the sky. On the gathering point there were already a lot of students. At 6 am the group started to move towards the place where they would meet up with the volunteers. "I wonder what is so interesting in cleaning trash" - complained Stephanie. "Stephanie was mostly a party girl and always complained about everything being boring." "I thought you really liked animals" - said Jack, who was really liked biology and chemistry. "But we will just scare them!" - said Stephanie.

When ~~the~~ <sup>they</sup> arrived <sup>on</sup> into the meeting location it was 6:30 am. "Alright, kids!" - called <sup>Ralph</sup> ~~Jack~~ <sup>Ralph</sup> was the man who was organising most of their trips. "Today we have a beach near a river. So let's get going!" - announced the organiser. When they arrived even Stephanie stood still. Cars, bottles and packets of all kinds were floating around. The class started clearing these mess, mess that Jack was just muttering about how long do iron metals and plastic decay. Stephanie suddenly said declared, "What are dirty creatures we are!" Everyone was surprised with her sudden ecological thoughts. "What at does make you think so?" - asked Jack. "The amount of junk floating around! Even ~~7~~ <sup>7</sup> sometimes ~~it~~ <sup>it</sup> ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> ~~so~~ <sup>so</sup> ~~hard~~ <sup>hard</sup> ~~to~~ <sup>to</sup> ~~understand~~ <sup>understand</sup> how many animals ~~are~~ <sup>are</sup> ~~like~~ <sup>like</sup> that!" - was the answer.

Maybe Stephanie's point is relevant. Why do we treat our home?
