WRITING

The recent town council meeting was dedicated to the idea of redesigning Regent Court as late-night food quarter. Some people find this idea pretty exciting, while others have some objections. We want to write a report for people to know how things are going after this meeting.

A town council made a decision to redesign Regent Court as food quarter for people to have more places in town to spend their time with their family and friends. They will be able to visit new small cafés and try street food. Some citizens are supporting this idea and want it to become real. But people who live in Regent Court don't share the same opinion. They think that their home place would become very noisy, dirty, uncomfortable, and full of people who will spend their time in food quarter and interrupt peaceful life of those who live there. Now we have two very different opinions between citizens and we can only wait for the final decision of the town council and see how government will solve this problem.

Maybe nothing will change in the Regent Court if the town council will consider their idea unlogical. In that case people living there will have nothing to worry about.

This image shows a single page of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
